THE LAW UPHELD AS GUARD

AGAINST FRAUD.

In regard to the constitutionality of the law, the court says:

There has been an invasion of the rights of this defendant, or of others similarly situated, and no deprivation of property; no lien for storage compensation in any wise has been affected; no obnexious discrimination between articles of food is the result and, since the fifteenth day of June, the obligation of no contract has been, and could not have been, impaired.

The spectre of unconstitutionality

have been, impaired.

The spectre of unconstitutionality lurks not in the provisions involved in the presnt inquiry, but in section 37 which places an average time limit upon cold storage preservation of human food, and the question involved therein ought not now to be anticipated. With that debatable section eliminated, the act is simply a regulation of a comparatively new a regulation of a comparatively new business, with an object of prevent-ing fraud and imposition upon the uming public. The doctrine controls here: not he character of the food in respect of wholesomeness and nutritiveness. but reasonable certainty of informa-tion as to what purchasers are buy ing so that they, having any preference or prejudice, may determine for themselves whether they will select fresh food or take chances with the possible contingencies of gelidic pre-

Assemblyman Brennan and Assistant District-Attorney Lloyd P. Stryker be imposed. The defense pleaded for a suspended sentence, but the Court decided upon a $400 fine, virtually the maximum penalty.
